Phase 3: Guidance for affiliated clubs during COVID-19

Mountaineering Scotland is the representative organisation for hill walkers, climbers and ski tourers in Scotland, with over 14,500 members and 162 affiliated walking, mountaineering and climbing clubs.

The purpose of this guidance is to provide a framework for hill walking, mountaineering and climbing clubs within the current Scottish Government public health advice and phase of exit from lockdown, while highlighting additional considerations to be aware of in the presence of COVID-19 when taking part in these activities.

For activity specific advice please refer to the general guidance for hillwalkers and climbers in Scotland on the Mountaineering Scotland website.

We urge everyone heading out to enjoy the outdoors to be mindful of how their individual actions reflect on the whole outdoor community. The key will be for individuals to take a sensible approach to their activities, use your judgement to manage the risks, and to consider the social responsibility we all have to each other, to protecting our emergency services and to minimise the transmission of COVID-19.

IMPORTANT: Do not leave your home for any reason if Scottish Government advice means you should stay at home because you or someone you live with has or has had symptoms of COVID-19. People who are symptomatic should book a test and self-isolate for 10 days; household members should self-isolate for 14 days as per the NHS guidance. No one who is self-isolating should attend an outdoor sports activity or leave their home for exercise or physical activity.

Please note: public health advice and guidance for Scotland may differ from that of England and Wales. Information on Scottish Government approach to managing COVID -19 is available at Scottish Government: Coronavirus in Scotland

Phase 3: Key considerations

- Be COVID aware – ensure all club members follow the public health advice for physical distancing and hand hygiene.
- Be prepared: Check that car parks, toilets and other facilities open in advance.
- Be safe: Plan ahead, have suitable clothing, footwear and equipment and stay well within your limits and that of your group - whatever your activity - to avoid the need for rescue and emergency services.
- Be considerate: Think about how your actions might impact on others and follow the Scottish Outdoor Access Code at all times.

Club responsibilities

- Clubs should appoint a COVID-19 officer to ensure appropriate processes are in place so that they can effectively oversee the implementation of the necessary measures to keep members safe during a meet. A sportsotland e-learning module for COVID Officers is available here.
- It is the responsibility of each club committee and activity organiser to undertake a documented risk assessment, based on their local circumstances, prior to activity taking place. Consider safety first, particularly focusing on minimising the risk of transmission. Appropriate measures must be put in place to ensure participants, staff and volunteers are always protected.
- Only outdoor sport and physical activity should be undertaken at this time with all indoor exercise and changing areas remaining closed.
- An indicative date of 14 September has been announced for the resumption of indoor contact sport for adults and young people aged 12 and over, following relevant guidance from the appropriate sport governing body.
- Coaches will be able to deliver to adults and young people aged 12 and over in non-contact sports activity in indoor facilities in accordance with SGB guidance for undertaking their sports activity and coaches should also check with facility operators with regards to specific requirements.
- Clubs should communicate clearly and regularly with members and participants setting out what they are doing to manage risk, and what advice they are giving to individuals before, during and after visits to the venue/activity.
- Make them aware in advance of measures you are putting in place and guidelines they are asked to follow. Ideally clubs should publish an action plan detailing their plans to restart activities safely.
- Local lockdown measure may be in place – please check the information on the Scottish Government website if this applies to the area where your club members live: www.gov.scot/publications/coronavirus-covid-19-local-measures/

Club/group activities

See appendix 1 for simplified chart outlining age-specific rules for physical distancing and meeting up with others.

- Club members may participate in informal outdoor non-contact activities including walking, bouldering, climbing and scrambling on your own, with members of your own household and with members of four other households (with 2m physical distancing).
- From 24th August, clubs can organise group lead walks for up to 30 people (adults and children) from any number of households (with 2m physical distancing).
- Normal physical distancing and household number guidelines (max 5 households) will however be applicable before and after the formal led mountain-related activity.
- For club group lead walks, Test and Protect measures should be implemented for all activities to assist NHS Scotland with contact tracing in the event of a virus outbreak.

- Contact details must be collected and retained for 21 days for each group lead walk and consideration should be given to the particular risks to older members and those who have been shielding.
- A leaflet providing information on the Test and Protect service from NHS Scotland is also available here.
- Car sharing is still not allowed, so parking is a consideration if you are planning larger organised meets.
- Travel guidance outlined by the Scottish Government should always be adhered to. Further information is available at Coronavirus \(COVID-19\) Phase 3: Staying safe and protecting others.
- Shielding has been paused from 1 August 2020. This will mean that those who were shielding can follow the same guidance as the rest of Scotland. To stay safe, they should strictly follow physical distancing and hygiene measures. More details on the Scottish Government website.

Planning outdoor activities

For activity-specific information, please refer to the general guidance for hill walking and climbing in Scotland when planning your club activities – find the latest version here:

www.mountaineering.scot/coronavirus

- Be mindful of how others may feel about group activities – not everyone may wish to participate at this time or feel comfortable being around larger groups.
- Plans may need to change at short notice, so consider whether it is wise to plan more than 3-6 months in advance.
- Consider the level of activities being organised and whether they are suitable for participants who may need to build up fitness/strength again after lockdown.
- We advise clubs to update their risk assessments for all club activities to cover key points relating to managing risk of COVID-19 transmission and information provided to participants before and during activities.
- It is recommended that club members make their own transport arrangements. Car sharing is not allowed so please check that there is adequate parking available and have an alternative plan in case it's too busy where you are going.

Meeting with people from other households

- Adults and young people of 12+ must maintain physical distancing of at least 2m as well as cough/hand hygiene. Does the location you're planning to go to lend itself to adequate physical distancing within your own group and with other people?
- Bring your own food, drink and equipment and avoid sharing equipment.
- Ensure that any equipment used is cleaned or quarantined after use (see further resources).
- Keep a note of who came along and their contact details. Track and Protect measures should be implemented for all activities to assist NHS Scotland in the event of a virus outbreak Test and Protect
- Think about how you would administer first aid if required – see HSE website and St John Ambulance for advice on first aid during COVID-19.

- Think about how you can manage a situation where someone in your group is non-compliant with physical distancing or other measures in place.

Insurance

- At this stage, there is not a COVID exclusion under the Mountaineering Scotland liability insurance policy, however there is a duty of care owed to members and the public to ensure they are safe, and this means continuing to adhere to all governments guidelines and risk assessments be updated accordingly.

Social meets

- With the reopening of pubs and cafes, clubs should check the latest Scottish Government public health advice on staying safe and meeting others if considering arranging social meets.

Club huts

The BMC have developing specific guidance for clubs and have kindly agreed that we can make it available to our member clubs. The guidance can be accessed here:

Mountaineering Scotland understands that each club hut is different in terms of layout, facilities etc and it would not be possible to produce more specific guidance that would cover all huts and situations. We are here to support clubs, however whether or not to open your hut is a matter for clubs to decide based on their individual circumstances and how current guidelines can be applied. This is a difficult decision with restrictions still in place and clubs may wish to hold off and defer reopening until restrictions are eased further.

- Plans to reopen –If you are planning to reopen your hut in the near future we would be very grateful if you could let us know and whether you would be happy to share your experience with other clubs. Contact either huts@mountaineering.scot or info@mountaineering.scot
- Cleanliness and hygiene - Cleaning will be a key consideration for all accommodation providers under the current guidance and will be a particular challenge for club huts given the way they operate. For more information on managing hygiene/cleaning visit www.assc.co.uk/policy/cleaning-protocols-for-self-catering-properties-in-the-context-of-covid-19/
- Occupancy – Should clubs wish to open on a limited basis from Friday the 10th July a household can meet up to 2 other households at a time – up to 8 people in total. This includes overnight stays. From 15th July all holiday accommodation is permitted to open (following relevant guidance).
- Unoccupancy Clause - Hiscox are aware that due to lockdown that being able to monitor the property and perhaps do some work would be restricted due to lockdown. For this reason they have extended their unoccupancy condition to offer assistance

- Public Liability Insurance – As stated above our insurers have confirmed at this point there is no COVID exclusion under the Mountaineering Scotland liability insurance policy, however there is a duty of care owed to members and the public to ensure they are safe. This means in considering whether to re-open huts, clubs should continue to adhere to all government guidelines and ensure risk assessments and procedures are updated accordingly. We have been informed this position may change next year.

Coaches, Leaders and Guides

Paid and volunteer Qualified coaches, leaders, instructors or guides should refer to their specific professional association guidance on good practice during this phase of the Scottish Government route map. Mountain Training Scotland have developed specific COVID-19 advice for leaders, coaches and instructors:

Note: Normal physical distancing guidelines will however apply before and after the activity takes place.
Organised outdoor sports	Children aged 11 years and younger are not required to physically distance. This extends to organised sports activity and the field of play.  Specific consideration should be given to supervision of children under the age of 5 years as it is not appropriate for young children to maintain the models of physical distancing that are suitable for older children, either practically or in terms of child development. You may, for instance, ask a parent or carer to be present.	A 'field of play bubble' can be created during organised contact sports activity that allows contact whilst the activity is taking place, in effect suspending physical distancing guidelines for the duration of the activity.	Coaches and other adults supporting organised contact sports activity should attempt to keep physically distant where possible, but it is recognised that this will not always be possible. In such circumstances appropriate mitigating actions should be considered and recorded as part of the risk assessment.  All adults involved in coaching / actively engaging with children in an organised environment should have undertaken appropriate SGB safeguarding and, where available, Covid-19 training.

			Parents/carers who are supervising their children should abide by Scottish Government physical distancing guidance and stay at least 2m away from those out with their own household. Groups of parents from different households should not congregate before, during or after the activity.
