

SCOTTISH STUDENTS' WINTER SKILLS COURSE 20th – 22nd January 2017

COURSE AIM

The course will cover the basic skills required for venturing into the UK mountains under winter conditions. The aim is to prepare you to be able to climb the Munros under winter conditions or find your way safely to and from more technical climbs. The course is NOT a climbing course and NO ropework will be covered. Also included will be practical and theory sessions to help you make sound judgements about the avalanche hazard, weather, and equipment needed (as well as the skills to use it effectively). We cannot guarantee sufficient snow to cover all aspects that we would like to but we will offer relevant training and you are guaranteed some individual tuition. The courses are only open to those 18 years of age and older.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The programme is flexible with your instructor basing the two days around the topics below, taking into account individual needs and aims, weather etc.

- Technical sessions will include the use of an ice axe for walking, cutting steps, and self arrest; use of crampons in ascent/descent; emergency shelters may also be covered.
- Time will also be given to the equally important skills of avalanche awareness, route choice and winter navigation. There is no overnight snowholing expedition.
- Evening sessions will include avalanche awareness and navigation talks.

EQUIPMENT:

Glenmore Lodge can supply all equipment excluding basic warm clothing, hats and gloves, compass, map, headtorch, ski goggles and thermos. We would expect to supply ice axe, winter boots, crampons, gaiters, and waterproofs if required. An equipment list accompanies this information sheet.

Maps

We will be operating in the Northern Cairngorms, south from Glenmore Lodge to Ben Macdui, west to the Lairig Ghru and east to Strath Nethy. Bring an O.S. map sheet 36 1:50,000 scale (or an O.S. or Harvey 1:25,000 map). Alternatively if you have access to digital mapping you may be able to printout maps of these areas). Bring a map case - having a waterproof map or map case is essential.

Maps, a compass (Silva type 4 recommended) and batteries can be purchased from the Lodge shop.

- If you have your own equipment e.g. good winter mountain boots, crampons, ice axe, waterproofs, rucksack etc. please feel free to bring them along. If not, we can easily kit you out from the stores. We issue plastic boots for all our winter courses, as boots must be appropriate for the training and compatible with crampons. You will be walking off paths and at times on hard snow slopes - soft leather boots will not be appropriate. As a guide - boots should have at least a three quarter shank for rigidity; if you can twist or bend your boots in your hands they are probably too soft to create secure footsteps in hard snow. Lastly, ski goggles are a particularly useful item in the hills in winter - however we do not supply them.

- What you do need to bring is your own basic hill clothing e.g. hat, at least 2 pairs of substantial winter gloves or mitts, fleece, warm mountain trousers, thermos etc. Although we provide you with one towel for the weekend, you may like to bring an extra, particularly if you intend to use our small pool, there is also a gym & climbing wall.
